Afternoon beauty fix: Don't forget about your neck

BY REBECCA PERRIN | OCTOBER 12TH, 2011 | 2:30 PM

I've started to notice some serious creases on my neck. Are there anti-aging creams for that?

Never underestimate the neck's ability to reveal your true age. It's often forgotten during the morning/evening ritual of vitamin-rich creams and high-SPF sun protection, but your neck has thin skin and requires just as much cleansing and exfoliating as your face—if not more. Using one product all over will help you remember your neck and forget the forgetfulness. We're fans of Mèreadesso's Face and Neck Toner ($120, mèreadesso.com) because not only does it suit both areas, it also combines the benefits of a moisturizer, toner, serum, primer, and under-eye cream so neglect of anything, really, is a thing of the past.
