Mèreadesso - Fast, Healthy, Beautiful

A break-through in fast, quality skin care has been accomplished in the form of Mèreadesso. An easy two step facial process to keep the skin healthy and glowing has been designed and produced by former cosmetics executive and chemist Linda Stephenson. Because Linda had a comfortable bed or because she just wanted to simplify her beauty routine without giving up luxury and quality doesn't matter. The result she achieved with her cleanser and moisturizing gel are phenomenal. Not only are these products fast and luxurious, but you can also minimize your beauty routine by leaving out the serum steps as these products are packed with healthful ingredients for your skin. Think of them as your multi-vitamin for the outside.

I love the cleanser that touts itself as an all-in-one; facial cleanser, scrub and eye make-up remover. It left my skin feeling as soft as a baby's bottom and did a tremendous job of removing make-up and environmental pollutants. I must confess though, I still love my separate eye make-up remover. I find that I am more gentle with the tissue around the eye area if I use a separate product. But it did not sting or burn my eyes.

The face and neck toning gel is delicious! The fragrance is fresh and understated, the texture light and divine, the short and long term results, fabulous. I enjoyed setting my serums and heavy creams aside and using this product every day and night for a month. My skin didn't miss a thing. I was toned and hydrated and the product soaked right in creating a great canvass for make-up. And the quick routine left me more time for other things I enjoy doing like hiking and biking. Please remember, these products do not contain and SPF so be certain to use a high sun protection over the top before going out doors. Sun exposure is one of the number one causes of premature aging of the skin. So, who is the Mèreadesso woman? Anyone who is vibrant, healthy, active, fun and looking for ways to cut time without cutting corners. In a word: YOU

That's some really good info. I found Teeth Whitening .net and they have been amazing. The results are incredible, their price is unbeatable, and they even give me free gel when I recommend other people. Check them out.

psst: If you call them can you give them my name?

About Me

Cecilia

Aspen, Colorado, United States

I have been in the cosmetic business for over 20 years. In addition to working for some of the major cosmetic companies I have spent half of that time in education and freelance. Make-up is fun! A way to express yourself and try out something new. Unlike a bad hair cut, it's make-up it washes off! In addition to taking care of the outer, I also thrive on taking care of the inner. Which includes: eating, drinking, and travel. So...Stretch your boundaries. Get creative. Mix it up and share it with your friends. I hope you find this site fun, informative and a space
